DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

2. Group I: Claims 1-10 and 16, drawn to cream filler composition.

3. Group II: Claims 11-15, drawn to method of making cream filler.

4. The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

5. Groups I- II lack unity of invention given that the special technical feature does not provide a contribution over the prior art, specifically, in light of Cochran (USPN 4260643) in view of McDonald, USPN 3030211.

Cochran discloses cream filler composition (col 10, line 11) having trisaturated glycerides, from 5-20%, and extremely low amount of liquid oil at room temperature (col 4, lines 30-35). It is obvious that liquid oil at room temperature possesses SFI of zero and is selected from vegetable oil. There is no disclosure of partially hydrogenated fat fraction, however, the claimed partially hydrogenated fat fraction is not required, i.e. 0%.

Cochran does not teach about the "increased gliadin content" in the composition.

McDonald, teaches that the amount of gliadin can be added in butter cream type frosting and compared with the deamidized vs unmodified gliadin in the composition (col 4, lines 50-65). It is obvious that the amount in the composition can be increased value of gliadin content compared to natural gliadin content in wheat gluten which would be in the range of between approximately 1-3%. The motivation is smoother texture, higher gloss, and improved stability (col 2, lines 25-32).

It would have been also obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to include the teaching of McDonald into Cochran. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to use deamidized gliadin in order to achieve smoother texture, higher gloss, and improved stability (col 2, lines 25-32).

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1787

7. The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

8. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

9. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

10. A telephone call was made to the James Wray on 5/16/2010 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Art Unit: 1787

11. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims.

Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder.

All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

12. In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
